

Episcopal Relief and Development

Episcopal Relief and Development is an independent 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that has changed the lives of over one million people in the last year through our work on food and nutrition, health, and economic development. We provide emergency assistance in times of crisis and rebuild after disasters. We enable people to climb out of poverty by offering long-term solutions in the areas of food, security, and health care, including HIV/AIDS and malaria.

All of Episcopal Relief and Development's international programs are designed to help achieve the Millennium Development Goals and cut extreme global poverty in half by 2015. Working with the worldwide Church and ecumenical partners, Episcopal Relief and Development saves children's lives and futures through community health programs, clean water, schools, and safe homes. We forge partnerships that enable women to gain education, employment, and health. With the help of many dedicated supporters, Episcopal Relief and Development strengthens communities today and equips them to meet tomorrow's challenges.
